

Why Americans Don't Get

Human Rights . . .

and Why We Shouldn't Be Surprised . . .

Stanley Katz

President Emeritus of the American Council of Learned Societies

Stanley Katz is President Emeritus of the American Council of Learned Societies, the national humanities organization in the United States. His recent research focuses upon the relationship of civil society and constitutionalism to democracy, and upon the relationship of the United States to the international human rights regime. He also writes about higher education policy, and publishes a blog for the Chronicle of Higher Education. Formerly Class of 1921 Bicentennial Professor of the History of American Law and Liberty at Princeton University, Katz is a specialist on American legal and constitutional history, and on philanthropy and non-profit institutions.

Monday, November
8th, 2010

12 PM

The Orfalea Center for Global & International Studies

Seminar Room
1005 Rob Gym

